PREMIER VISITS PEOPLE'S PARK

The duo in Adventure Playground, an illegal children's park built on the path of Sydney's Macquarie Expressway. It has so far cost the SNW Department of Main Roads, the SNW police, and the countless people with vested interests lots of money and lawsuits. The kids love it.

Why is Angus visiting? See page 6 for a report from the streets.

The company's success has prompted a number of other firms to enter the market. In 1997, for example, the U.S. Postal Service announced that it would offer a similar service to its customers. The service would be called "Priority Mail Express" and would be available for a fee. The service would be available for a fee of $15 per pound, plus a handling fee of $2.50 per pound. and 1984. In the last 10 years, the number of people who have been diagnosed with AIDS has increased by more than 100 percent. The CDC estimates that about 100,000 people have died from AIDS in the United States since 1981. the new wing required. The firm had gained far more than it had lost in a somewhat haphazardly planned but very comprehensive renovation of the main building. The firm's future relied on the large and extensive program to be undertaken in the next 18 to 24 months, and the company was not prepared to fund any more capital expenditures. It was time to turn the clock back to the 1960s and to the original design. The firm's new wing would be a landmark building, one that would reflect the firm's new image and its new direction. # Bo Diddley, having a little both ways

THINK OF BO DIDDLEY as looking almost comically old. In fact, he is.

At 67, the 5-foot-4-inch, 140-pounder is a little older, a little grayer, a little more of a grandfather. But he's still got that same old Bo Diddley beat, and he's still got that same old Bo Diddley swagger.

He's still got that same old Bo Diddley swagger, and he's still got that same old Bo Diddley swagger. He's still got that same old Bo Diddley swagger, and he's still got that same old Bo Diddley swagger.

He's still got that same old Bo Diddley swagger, and he's still got that same old Bo Diddley swagger. He's still got that same old Bo Diddley swagger, and he's still got that same old Bo Diddley swagger.
